PORT ST. LUCIE — Guardians for New Futures (GFNF), a non-profit organization providing support and advocacy for the 19 judicial circuit Guardian ad Litem (GAL) is working on the Angels Gift Drive.

The purpose of the Angels Gift drive is to fulfill the holiday "wish list" for those children placed in the system and victims of neglect, abuse or abandonment.

GFNF President, Debbie Butler has announced the non-profit is now distributing each child's "wish list". The gift program covers the 19 Judicial Circuit for the Treasure Coast including St. Lucie, Martin, Indian River and Okeechobee counties. Debbie states, "This is a wonderful opportunity to help neglected, abused and abandoned children during the upcoming holiday season. We are seeking individuals, local employers, and organizations to help fulfill a child's holiday "wish". She further states "the community at large can sponsor one or more of the children for the holiday season by simply providing a gift or gifts on a child's "wish list".

Gifts can be dropped off at various locations including Saint Lucie, Indian River, Martin, and Okeechobee counties.

For more information and drop off locations call Jennifer Manis at 772.785.5804. For details on the Guardian ad Litem Program volunteer program visit www.gfnf4kidgs.org
